

Equality with God?

A life devoted to improving the world

Would people lose the will to help?

Would religious people be denied the hope of heaven?

Ethical?

The value of personal knowledge of history

People fear death and seek existential meaning from it.

Is religion more about encouraging the good than about the life After?

Is everyone living forever or only just a few people?

Defining your own meaning

Motivation is affected if there is no urgency?

What about ever lasting trauma?

If I live forever – how old would my body be?

What would this do to world overcrowding?

Can someone opt to die or is this a prison of life?

What about the job market?

Can we separate age and maturity?

We would know more of our ancestors and descendants – a sense of person

Is there a difference between forever and for a long time or between forever and eternal?

Would we know we are immortal? Would others? Will we all be?

What about people who are selfish or arrogant and a force for negativity?

A whole new meaning to life-long learning!

Where is my moral compass without a reckoning?

How would each person make progress in life – knowing there is forever?

Do you want to live for ever?